By Jones C. Hamilton,
Vol. II, price $2.90. Vols. I and II, price $5.

Vol. II, price $2.50. Vols. I and II, price $2.50.

"The first volume of this work has been criticised with some severity, as making claims for Hamilton which are derogatory to the claracter of Washington. My course has been eigmatized as sarrliegious and vindetive toward others. When it can be shown that the exhibition of the truth as to others is irrelevant to this interprise of the American people, then the latter charge may be deemed to have some color. Sarrliege, destruction, defamation, are the terms that have been used to criminate my claim of authorship to Hamilton, of letters subscribed by Washington in the course of his military command. I confine this notice to so much as regards Washington."

MEMOIR of GENERAL SIR HENRY HAVE-

MEMOIR of GENERAL SIR HENRY HAVELOCK, by the Rev. Ws. BROCK. 16mo. 75c.

The whole Christian world has an interest in such a man.

It (this volume) gives an outline of the early life of General Havelock, and of his long military exper in Iudia; and also a full and glowing description of the Sepoy Insurrection, and of Havelock achievements. The great interest of the volume lies in its development of General Havelock's Christian choester. In this there are lasses of faith, of principle, of moral courses, of self-denial, by which all Christians may profit. Scince of his interested exceedingly beautiful and touching.

In this country no foreign military man has more largely interested the people, and, we doubt not, the memoir will be very widely sought for and read."

"They are thoughts we would wishe very woman would think."
[London Athenaum.

"A very useful book, written in that clear, straightforward, unhesitating style, which is characteristic of a clever woman willing.

"This excellent volume is characterised by good sense, good laste and feeling, and is written in an earnest, philanthropic, as a close of sound cound counter will written, true-hearted and about the sound sound sense will written true-hearted and about young lady may thank the author of Woman's Thoughts' for Incane of doing so London Examiner.

LIFE OF SIR HENRY HAVELOCK. By the Rev. Wm. Brock. 1 vol. 12mo. With an elegant Steel Engraving, and a Plan of Lucknew. Colored. Price 75 cents.

"In the preparation of the narrative of Havelock's most memorable 'hundred days,' advantage has been taken of every available source of information, and it is hoped that though different representations may be expected of the same events, according to the point of view from which they were observed by the marrators, it is believed that in the following pages the reader will find an accounte account of the last campsign. Lasy Havelock, and other friends, have rendered the author most important sid throughout, and have spared no pains in adding him to produce a colume somewhat worthy of the man who was so well designated by Lord Hardings as "very inch a Soldier, and every inch a Christian."

STRAW HAT TRADE:

The undersigned would respectfully represent that for some years part they have apprechared the justice of the remarks rasks by the Trade while making their Spring purchases, via: "That all new styles were introduced so late in the season, they were compelled to make their heaviest purchases without waiting than placing themselves under a disadvantage which the retailer and offsers who purchase later avoided, instead of giving them the opportunity of better selections from larger assettments, at prices to warrant their heavier purchases;" and while seasoning to the force of ruch representations, the undersigned have also endonvored to remedy the difficulty, so for as lies in their power. In furtherance of this desirable change, they now invite special attention to the
